

Putting the sickest first protects high-urgency patients

